White Elephants Now Tied With Park Row for Lead

Bound to Be Hot Finish on Thursday Night in Evening World Tourney, With Front Teams Both Having One Series to Roll to Complete Their Schedules.

STANDING OF THE TEAMS IN THE WORLD TOURNEY.

Table with columns for Team Name, W, L, P, H, A, and other statistics.

SCHEDULE TO-NIGHT. Bronx Central at Hunts Point.

THE White Elephant trio, having jumped into first place by whitewashing the Mets last week, the Park Row champions, knowing the loss of but one game might cost them the championship in the Evening World three-man amateur tournament at its termination Thursday, set a pace at the downtown academy Saturday night that the visiting Bronx Central could not keep up with.

Nor could any other trio combat such totals as 679, 697 and 615, respectively, which the Park Rows piled up against the Koster team in their determination to grab the leading honors of this big event. The Bronx Central was swamped by overwhelming differences in the scores of all three games and did not have a look-in at any stage of the match.

Their victories again place the downtown sharpshooters on an equal basis in the standing with the White Elephants. Both trios have still one series to roll to finish their schedules, the three men at Bergman's on Wednesday and the Park Rows at Furber's on Thursday, the closing night.

The 697 total is a new team record

Dr. Osler on Tuberculosis

Sir William Osler, Regius Professor of Medicine at Oxford, says in his "Practice of Medicine" (1902), on page 249: "The leading of pulmonary tuberculosis is shown clinically by the recovery of mucus in sputa spouts elastic tissue and health have been found. * In the granulation products and associated pneumonia a scar tissue is formed, while the smaller scars are become impregnated with lime salts. To such conditions alone should the term healing be applied."

The success of Osler's Attentive in tuberculosis may be due partly to the content of a lime salt in such combination with other valuable ingredients as to be easily assimilated.

It is worth a trial, unless other treatment already is succeeding. We make no promise concerning it any more than do reputable physicians with their prescriptions, but since it contains no opiates, narcotics or habit-forming drugs, it is safe. Please try—Osler's Attentive, your doctor, or direct.

FATHER OF 9 CHILDREN SLAIN AFTER A ROW OVER GAME OF CARDS

Ambrosio Passalio May Have Been Shot by Men He Sent to Prison.

Capt. Graham of the Branch Detective Bureau for Queens believes that Ambrosio Passalio, of No. 10 Sherman Street, Astoria, shot to death early to-day near his home, paid with his life for giving testimony against a Black Hand band eight years ago which sent four of his enemies to Sing Sing. They were recently released.

Passalio, who is a butcher, played cards all night in the saloon of Joseph Stanfale at No. 333 Hamilton Street. He was the banker and had charge of the "kitty." There were three men in the game for whom he refused to buy drinks out of the common fund. The others in the game did not understand the reason, but the three seemed to know what the trouble was and were ugly. The game ended at 5 o'clock and the three followed Passalio out of the place quarreling.

In front of No. 431 Hamilton Street a shot was fired. The bullet struck the bed in which Jacob Graff was sleeping but did not harm him. The neighborhood was aroused. Persons looting from their windows saw Passalio running down the street with three men in pursuit. As Passalio dodged into the door of the Di Nobili tobacco warehouse, another shot was fired and Passalio fell. The three men made off.

A milkman went to Passalio's aid. He would only say that he was "sick and wanted a doctor." Ambulance Surgeon Berry was called from St. John's Hospital, but Passalio was dead when he arrived.

Passalio was a man of considerable property. He left a wife and nine children, one of whom was born after the news of the murder reached his home this morning.

SHAD SUPPLY IS SHORT.

Delaware Fishermen Find More Money in Mullett Plants. WOODBURY, N. J., March 27.—The war is cutting down the supply of shad from the Delaware River. Not because the fish are having any more in it, but the fishermen are making so much money in the mullett plants along the river that they are letting their mullet idle. The season is late, but the hundreds of men from Pennsylvania, New Jersey and Cumberland County, who usually start down to the bay at this time of the year, are holding on to their good jobs and letting the shad have everything their own way.

Capt. William Henry, who for forty years has run a line of boats from Philadelphia to the bay, has decided not to operate this season because he does not think it will be profitable.
